WORLD REACTION TO MOLOTOV'S SPEECH: CONCLUSION OF PACT IS NOT PREVENTED

Baltic States Position Most Difficult Problem

LONDON, June 1 (REUTER)—THE VIEW IS WIDELY EXPRESSED IN THIS MORNING'S PRESS THAT THERE IS NOTHING IN THE SPEECH OF THE SOVIET FOREIGN COMMISSAR, M. MOLOTOV, TO PREVENT THE SATISFACTORY CONCLUSION OF THE CONTEMPLATED THREE-POWER ANTI-AGGRESSION PACT.

The "Times" and "Daily Telegraph" devote close attention to the misgivings of the Soviet Foreign Minister in regard to firstly, reference in the Anglo-French proposals to the League Covenant, and, secondly, the position of the Baltic states.

The "Times" says that it is clear that when the Government invoked the spirit of the Covenant they did not mean to suggest that the projected agreement should be hampered or impaired by any formality of consultation of all member states which form the League Council.

The "Daily Telegraph" considers the position of the Baltic states probably the most difficult of the outstanding problems, having regard to the wish of the countries themselves not to compromise neutrality, but the paper believes that the difficulties, though serious, ought not to be insurmountable.

No Difficulty

The "News Chronicle" feels there should be no difficulty in accepting the three conditions laid down in the speech, namely, that it must be defensive, that it must cover all states on Russia's western border and that it must be mutual. It recognizes that the Baltic issue is by no means an unimportant detail but declares it must not be allowed to stand in the way of the greater purpose.

The "Daily Mail" expresses some disappointment with M. Molotov's pronouncement. It also urges that the agreement must not be wrecked on the Baltic issue. (BWS).

OPTIMISM IN FRANCE

PARIS, June 1 (REUTER)—The majority of the press are optimistic regarding the successful conclusion of the Anglo-French-Soviet pact following the Soviet Foreign Commissar's speech yesterday.

"Matin" says that objections to the form in which the document was drawn up are to be expected although, as official French circles declare, Paris, London and Moscow are in complete agreement as to the obligations involved.

"Petit Parisien" charges M. Molotov with exaggerating the divergences which are not fundamental.

"L'Ouvre" (Madame Taboulet) welcomes the speech and considers the pact may be signed in the course of next week.

"Journal" says the Baltic states is a difficult point in the negotiations but thinks that everything can be arranged, though a more conciliatory spirit on both sides will be needed.

KING AND QUEEN TO SLEEP IN LOG CABIN

VICTORIA, June 1 (REUTER)—The King and Queen are now on a week's continual train journey back home. To-day their Majesties will spend the day at Gasper, Alberta, and will sleep in a log cabin by the side of the lake, surrounded by high peaks. Yesterday they drove from Victoria to New Minister to rejoin the Royal train.

WHITHER AWAY? RUSSIA SETS A PROBLEM TO THE WORLD

Will the Russian bear move right or left now—that is the question—or will he retire into seclusion once more? (The Bulletin, Glasgow).

New Decrees Affecting Jews In Italy

ROME, June 1 (REUTER)—New decrees affecting Jews were issued to-day including one in which wills, whose beneficiaries must embrace Jewish faith in order to benefit from them, are declared void.

Another decree states that non-Jewish citizens with Jewish names must have their names changed, while Italians with Jewish fathers and Italian mothers may take the maiden name of their mother.

Dr. Robin Flower, Deputy Keeper of Manuscripts at the British Museum, expressed belief that three pages of manuscripts in the Museum are in the handwriting of Shakespeare. (BWS).

CONFUSION IN AMERICA

NEW YORK, June 1 (REUTER)—The first reaction of M. Molotov's speech is one of amazement and confusion according to the "New York Times" which adds that the question now for Britain and France to decide is how much more they will, or can, concede.

COMMENT IN ITALY

ROME, June 1 (REUTER)—"Popolo di Roma" commenting on M. Molotov's speech writes, "The Commissar's speech sounds, above all, a note of reproach and reserve. The situation remains as when M. Litvinoff was torpedoed, but Britain had not then given way to every point as she has done since Lord Halifax's journey to Paris and Geneva."

CHINESE OFFENSIVE IN HUPEH SUCCESSFUL: JAPANESE ON RETREAT

SHANGHAI, JUNE 1 (REUTER)—THE CHINESE FORCES IN HUPEH LAUNCHED A GENERAL OFFENSIVE YESTERDAY, according to Chinese reports, which claim that success is attending the drive.

The Japanese forces are alleged to be retreating towards Yingchen, 85 miles north-north-west of Hankow and Kinsan, 90 miles west-north-west of Hankow, "leaving behind large quantities of heavy arms."

The despatches estimate the strength of the Chinese forces operating in the Hah River region at more than 100,000.

CHUNGKING, June 1 (Central)—Indicative of heavy Japanese casualties in the engagements at Topoawan, Lohansu and Hsata-wangmiao on the Hankow-Ichang highway in central Hupeh, thirty truckloads of Japanese wounded were seen to have been sent to the rear yesterday, according to reports from Fancheng, Hupeh.

Japanese heavy artillery pieces at Lohansu and Topoawan are heavily shelling the Chinese, who, however, are tenaciously clinging to their positions.

The Japanese recently driven away from Suhsien, north Hupeh town 105 miles northwest of Hankow, have retired to Yingchan, and Mapiang, respectively 34 and 22 miles east of Suhsien. The Chinese are "mopping up" the remnant Japanese lingering at Shih and Hsuehshien, respectively eight and 15 miles east of Suhsien.

Fierce Fight
Field dispatches from north Hunan claim that Chinese forces yesterday launched a vigorous offensive against the Japanese constructing defence works on the Tuncheng-Yoyang highway presumably to impede movements of Chinese guerrillas between north Hunan and south Hupeh.

In a half-day fierce fight, the Chinese inflicted 500 casualties and seized scores of Japanese rifles. The remnant Japanese fled to Yangtze, on the Hunan-Hupeh border, 38 miles northeast of Yoyang. Japanese reinforcements from Tuncheng were intercepted and severely beaten.

Many Mines Laid
The Japanese at Nanlinkiao on the Tuncheng-Tsungyang highway in South Hupeh are still besieged by the Chinese. A Chinese unit has made its way to a point six kilometres north of Nanlinkiao to attack the Japanese rear. They have laid many mines there. On Tuesday two Japanese army lorries were dynamited. The highway between Nanlinkiao and Sienning on the Canton-Hankow Railway has been damaged.

Two Japanese warships and eight steam launches which attempted to land bluejackets on the shore of the Tungting Lake at Kiumatsui were fired upon by Chinese shore batteries yesterday morning. They are now anchored some 8,000 meters from the shore with the Chinese keeping strict vigilance.

BRITISH BOXER INDEMNITY FUNDS RUMOURS OF SUBSTANTIAL GRANT TO H. K. U. CATEGORICALLY DENIED

Unsatisfactory State Of University's Finances

(Special to the "Hongkong Daily Press")

Hopes, based on insistent reports, that the Hongkong University would shortly receive a substantial grant from the remitted British Boxer Indemnity Funds were dashed yesterday when a categorical denial was issued by Mr. Han Lih-wu, general secretary to the Board of Trustees.

The trustees, including Mr. D. J. Sloss, Vice-Chancellor of the University, and Sir Robert Calder Marshall, of Shanghai, have been conferring in Hongkong during the past two days, and it was to attend the meeting that Mr. Han flew here from Chungking on Tuesday.

Both foreign and Chinese circles had long believed that an appreciable grant was about to be made to Hongkong's seat of learning, and the belief was further strengthened when the new policy of affording accommodation and tuition to a larger number of students from China proper came into effect.

The desire of both the British and Chinese authorities is greater co-operation and exchange between the local University and Chinese higher educational institutions, but it was generally felt that, in view of the unsatisfactory state of the Hongkong University's finances, as revealed in the Report issued yesterday, the policy would not be entirely successful unless these finances were put on a relatively sound footing.

The frequent consultation between the University authorities and the Chinese authorities in recent months gave rise to reports that a grant from the Boxer funds was likely. Considerable speculation was caused, therefore, by the meeting here of the Trustees.

Mr. Han Lih-wu told the "Hongkong Daily Press" yesterday, however, that there was entirely no foundation for the reports.

The present conference of the Board of Trustees, Mr. Han stated, was not called for the purpose of discussing such a grant, nor was any grant at the moment contemplated.

ANOTHER NEW FEATURE

In addition to the two features introduced in yesterday's "Hongkong Daily Press", viz. Coming Events and Hongkong Personalities, the Editor has much pleasure in announcing still another, which is to be published every Monday. This will be a One Man's View series entitled "What I Think Nobody Cares a Fig" by "Mr. Nobody" and the first will appear on Monday next.

CHINESE DRIVE IN THE SOUTH ADVANCE NORTH OF CANTON

From Our Own Correspondent

CHUNGSHAN, June 1.—After their capture of Takongling, north of Canton, the Chinese forces are advancing towards Shengkong and nearer to Canton. In spite of the adverse weather, which, however, holds up the bombing operations of enemy warplanes.

Chinese forces are moving up their field guns to better enemy positions. Instead of relying on infantry charges as was done before. This gives a better advantage to the provincial forces. Because of the terrific Chinese assaults, the enemy is sending down reinforcements from Taipinggang to strengthen its position in Shengkong.

Japanese troops in Sunan and Sunkai, also north of Canton, on the Canton-Hankow Railway, have also been attacked by Chinese units, and fighting continued up to early this morning. Being outnumbered, the Japanese were forced to remain behind their entrenchments.

Prince Mahmud, brother of the Sultan of Trengganu was yesterday married to Miss Joyce Mabel Blencowe, daughter of an Oxford tailor, at St. Giles' Registry Office, Oxford. The couple will sail in the S.S. Corfu to-day for Malaya, says Reuter.

Locke Leading Whitcombe In Golf Title

LONDON, June 1 (REUTER)—With steady driving and excellent approach shots, Arthur Locke, the South African golf champion, won seven of the last nine holes in the third round of the British Open championship played at Coombe Hill, and led Reginald Whitcombe by five holes at the end of 54 holes. Whitcombe led by one hole at the 45th.

Locke in the third round took 74 strokes, while Whitcombe, with erratic driving, took 75.

CHINESE AMATEUR DRAMATICS

Splendid Presentation Of Sable Cicada: George Lau Outstanding

Realization of China's crying needs in the agony of war has acted as a tremendous energising force among Chinese in Hongkong and moved them to splendid effort in many ways, but there is no more completely satisfying a field in which all such commendable initiative and labour has been directed than in the department of amateur dramatics.

The current presentation by the Hongkong Chinese Little Theatre Group of the historical plays, "Sable Cicada" and "Dream of the Red Chamber" is illustration of the point.

SHOP FOKI HIT BY FALLING MAH JONG TABLE

PERCIVAL STREET ACCIDENT

An accident, which might have had serious consequences, occurred in Percival Street yesterday evening, shortly before 7 o'clock, resulting in a Chinese being removed by ambulance to hospital for treatment.
The man, Lui Cheung, 28, employed as a foki in a barber's establishment on the ground floor of No. 7 Percival Street, had just walked out of the premises on to the pavement after his meal when he was struck by a glancing blow by a mah jong table top which had fallen from the second floor.
The full force of the blow was luckily prevented by poles on the outside of the railing of the first floor verandah.
Lui Cheung was rendered unconscious. Two St. John Ambulance men who happened to be near the scene, attended to Lui and it was fully ten minutes before he revived.

Not only does the production of these plays help, as it undoubtedly will, to meet the primary object to which it is dedicated, but opportunity is given for the full expression of artistic talent which, judging by recent observation, does not appear to be lacking here.

There is every reason, therefore, for all who are interested in the finer things of life to be thankful that the flower of Hongkong talent has not been left to blight unseen and waste its sweetness in the tea lounge and the counting-house.

Chinese personalities, well-known in social circles, of whose dramatic bent only a slim guess, at best, could hitherto be advanced, took to the stage at the Tai Ping Theatre last night in the first performance of "Sable Cicada" and overwhelmed even the hardest critic by their perfect confidence and ability.

MASTERY OF ESSENTIALS
Chinese opera is one of the most difficult forms which amateurs can select, but those that took part in last night's play displayed such mastery of essentials and reticence that usual words of praise sound hollow and insincere. The triumph must be witnessed to be believed.

An unflinching favourite with Chinese theatre-lovers, "Sable Cicada" depicts a fantastic intrigue of the Han Dynasty. Aware of the nation's danger under the sway of Tung Tao, a notorious minister who holds the Emperor Hsien at his mercy, a civil officer, Wang Wen, successfully contrives to wreck the tyrant's dream of usurpation by enrolling both the latter and his soldier son, Re Poo, in a duel for possession of Tiao Hsin (Sable Cicada), a maiden of great beauty.

GEORGE LAU

Mr. George Lau stood out last night in the part of the warrior son. The faithfulness to formal interpretation which characterized his performance, and the ease with which he showed in every movement and tone of voice, suggested excellent training and patient rehearsal.

This is equally true of every other member of the cast, who in concert provided an evening of unusually fine entertainment.

JOCKEY CLUB:

Postponed Whitsun Race Meeting To-morrow: Ten Events On Programme

(By "Last Quarter")

The second day's racing of the Whitsun Meeting which was scheduled for last Monday and subsequently postponed on account of the inclement weather, will be held to-morrow afternoon commencing at 2 p.m. The first saddling bell will be rung at 1.30 p.m., the programme for the day consisting of ten events with the Whitsun Plate as the main attraction of the afternoon's sport.

I doubt if more than four starters will go to the post for the mile and a quarter race for the Whitsun Plate and the issue should be fought out between the two Dunbar representatives. Bear Claw was my choice last week-end and before the postponement but Confusion Bay has come along so well since then that this bay is bound to make a good fight of it and in all probability win the event ultimately.

Moonlight View is well primed up and should account for Rob Roy, which I anticipate will be the remaining starter. King's Warden, it is rumoured, is already enjoying a well earned summer rest.

Lama Handicap (First Section)

Although Advancing Time is still the logical one to follow many rail fans are taken up with the chances of Orange Boven. This chestnut galloped well on Wednesday morning and if Mr. Encarnacao decides to take out this candidate, it would be well to have a saver on this on this pony. Dekko is also looking well, though the distance is somewhat against him.

A good bet should be Night View who finished fourth, after coming into the straight practically last during the Shatin Handicap a week ago. This black has still room for improvement so that he should be in fine fettle by to-morrow. Double Chance is the best outsider in my estimation and Royal Highness, if she elects to run, and with the services of an experienced jockey, may yet score a belated win.

Sharks Bay Handicap

Janber ran a disappointing race last Saturday and many punters have expressed the opinion that she is only a sprinter, at best. Personally I believe that owing to her delicate condition she has not been asked to do sufficient work in the course of her training to stand up to a gruelling race, especially against tried ponies. I am certain this mare will be different after the summer recess.

Baffin Bay should be near winning, with Janber a close second. Ajax should fill the remaining place, though if favoured with the assistance of a good jockey, this brown may spring a surprise. I have seen Ajax gallop with Snowy River quite often in the past and seemed to improve with each outing.

Green Island Handicap (First Section)

This is only a sprint race of about five furlongs and now that Pinrharrings has mastered his previous awkwardness at the gate, one can safely predict another win for this chestnut. Rose Evelyn is also a tempting proposition, though her behaviour at the start, at times, is not of the best.

Soldier of Britain should also be considered, especially if the going is on the fast side. Rose Jane is a very good and consistent "C" Class pony but I think this mare is not the type for a sprint race. If we get more rain and the going is heavy, Celtic Star may stand a chance.

Lama Handicap (Second Section)

This mile and a quarter race for "D" Class China ponies is the first leg of the Daily Double. The chances of Tribute must be seriously considered, as this grey has shown beyond doubt ability to shoulder weight, and also seems to be one of the few in this section that can stay a little over distance. Some Hope ran a disappointing race last week, but this small chestnut is a keen and good fighter and should secure a place. Starlet is not a bad place bet.

I cannot recommend Silver Star as I have not seen this grey of late, except for a solitary appearance last week, when he appeared none too promising and will probably feel much more comfortable in the stall than with a saddle on his back. Willynilly has a lot of weight but this chestnut is amongst the best in this class, and if properly nursed, may just do the trick. Wild Bear is an outsider worth following.

Woolahra Handicap

Devonian, Cocklerol and Rising Star should be the ones to battle it out in the straight. Chiltern, I have left out, as I am afraid the weight will be too much for this brown gelding. Happy Landings seem to lack a finish and it may be that harder training work might be beneficial.

Rivulet is the real danger as this chestnut is better over distance and with the week's interval should improve on last Saturday's condition.

Green Island Handicap (Second Section)

There is nothing outstanding in this race, which is the second leg of the Daily Double. I like the chances of Laughing Girl as this grey is fast off the mark and the other serious contenders are rather heavily weighted.

Rose Queen as usual, should be a danger, if she makes up her mind to have a say in it, though the distance is rather short for this bay mare. Galveston Bay and Tyne appear to be the next best, but are both at 108 lbs. Blue Diamond is worth supporting if punters are looking for a big dividend.

Beaufort Handicap

This race for griffins of the season should be a very closely contested affair. I have not seen Blue Express for some time and cannot comment on his condition, but if he starts with Mr. Encarnacao in the saddle, the combination should be prominent.

Galaxy is strongly fancied and this bay will be difficult to beat, especially if the going is on the hard side. Jennifer and Hectic View are also dangerous, with my fancy for the latter.

Mainly Handicap

This should be the hardest event to forecast as half the starters are conceded excellent chances of winning. I understand that Murray River did a very fast gallop lately and this chestnut therefore should be one of the first ones to be considered. Strathcarrick has been improving of late and is also worth noting, though the distance is not quite suitable.

Annabella has impressed me quite a lot these last two weeks and though she has done nothing sensational as regards time, I have a feeling this pony is about due for a win. Violet Queen is in at only 135 lbs., and is dangerous. A Great Time is also fit and likely to be one of those fighting out the finish. I will not go any further, but if you have a special "hunch" on any of the others, go right ahead as you may be correct—the ponies are well matched and the race is a difficult one to correctly forecast.

Smugglers Plate

We have another good betting race here and judging from Saturday's results, National Honour and Welcome should both be in at the finish. Bogey ran a good fourth and with a strong jockey may do better to-morrow.

Bressay has been kept over for this event and with Haddon and West Lake are also dangerous. Cog should race well and, for an outsider I suggest Gallant Marshal.

My final selections will be published to-morrow morning.

WATER POLO LEAGUE

New Committee Elected

TROPHY OFFERED

The committee of the Water Polo League was elected at the second meeting of the League held at the Victoria Recreation Club yesterday.

It was decided that the closing date for entries will be Tuesday, June 6, and clubs interested in the game are invited to send in their names before 6 p.m. on that date. The Army representative was not present yesterday and consequently it was uncertain whether the Army teams would enter or be permitted to use pitches within the harbour limit. However, it was mentioned that the Army could make arrangements with the European Y.M.C.A. for a number of their games to be played there.

Mr. Winglee, representative of South China Athletic Association, stated that his club would be agreeable to accommodate the Hongkong University, who had no bath of their own.

It was also decided that rules in connexion with the competition were to be drawn up by the committee and to be submitted for general approval at the next meeting.

GOAL-POSTS

A suggestion that standard goalposts be used throughout the League did not meet with approval, as it was pointed out that certain clubs would have to go to extra expense on this account. However, change in the standard dimension would be considered by the clubs.

The question of umpires introduced considerable discussion. It was stressed that good umpiring was essential to the better enjoyment of the game and that names of those willing to offer their services were to be submitted by the different clubs for consideration.

Mr. Chan Lan-fong, Chairman of the Chung Shing Benevolent Society, offered a trophy for the League. His gift was left in abeyance for consideration by the committee.

SEASON UMPIRES

The following names were submitted as umpires for the season:—S. V. Gittins, G. A. Agabeg, Leung Tit-sang, Chan Sek-pui, Li. Butten, R.N., H. Brokenshire, R. Goldman, Petty Officer Lloyd, R.N. Members of the committee were as follows:—

£500-A-SIDE GOLF TOURNEY

South African Player In Great Form

LONDON, June 1 (Reuter).—Arthur Locke, the South African Open Champion, led Reginald Whitecombe, the British Open Champion, by two holes at the end of the 36th hole, in the £500-A-Side Golf Challenge Tournament, over 72 holes, at Coombe-hill yesterday. Thirty-six holes were played yesterday and thirty-six holes will be completed to-day.

Locke's score for the first eighteen holes, when he led by one hole, was 70 and Whitecombe's score was 72. The course par is 73. In the second round, Locke's score was 68, 7 under par, and he led by three holes at the 25th. Whitecombe, in a fighting rally, squared the 31st. Whitecombe's second round score was 71.

CONFIDE IN FAITH PRIOR

BORED WITH LIFE

A FLOP IS A YOUNG LADY—26 years of age; she is bored with life and finds little of interest socially. She is employed during the day. However, she feels she should have some amusement but that which she finds is not interesting to her. Maybe it is the weather, she says.

MAYBE YOU CARRY your past failures with you, why not look forward instead of backward? Start at once to build a glowing personality that brings friends, good times. And one of the surest ways to do that is to like people. Then you're certain to do the things that make them like you. Soon you would appear interested, at ease, no longer the miserable wallflower, perched on the end of a chair, chilling others by your very look.

Cultivate the magnetic personality, be glad to see people, smile, listen to them when they talk to you, be interested in them. Do not be stiff when you are or socially and above all do not be a prude or "high-hatish!" Forget yourself, go out and have a good time and you will find your popularity will grow.

DON'T DRINK

YOUNG GIRL WRITES about the subject of drinking on evening parties. She is only eighteen years of age, does not care for smoking and has been asked by her parents to refrain from drinking. However, her escorts and a few friends do not seem to understand and take the fact of her abstinence personally.

STICK TO YOUR GUNS and to your parents' wishes. You are a very young girl, and someday in a few years you can commence to drink wines, whiskies, etc. If you desire, but not now.

However, do not make an issue of your refusal to join a social group in drinking. Order a light drink of fruit juice, tomato juice, etc. If you are pressed, which should not occur if your companions have any breeding, merely state in a nice way that you do not care for spirits, but would like to have a soft drink.

STAMP ALBUM

STAMP COLLECTOR has just started making an album and writes for particulars regarding various stamps.

THIS IS A DIFFICULT problem for me, due to the fact that outside of my interest in the absorbing occupation of collecting stamps, I have had little opportunity to collect the fascinating coloured bits of paper. There are several publications in magazine and book form on this subject sold in the shops. Recently, I heard from a good authority that when you first commence a collection it is not necessary to collect rare or costly stamps. Some of the finest groups are made up of common stamps of a specialized type, such as air mail.

What makes your album of value is the completeness of each set of stamps, the general neatness, the description and history you write of each stamp. When you know how to detect differences of colour, perforations, watermarks, which give value to a stamp, you are prepared to discover the rare one that may turn up for you, too, some day! A new series of five air-mail stamps issued by Nicaraguan commemorates the Nicaraguan earthquake, of eight years ago and honours Will Rogers, who flew to the scene of the disaster to aid the sufferers. Each stamp bears the words, "Nicaragua pays homage to Will Rogers."

SOCIAL PROBLEM

A WORKING GIRL has a problem which is worrying her a great deal. It is the "boss." On several occasions he has asked her to accompany him to dinner and the motion pictures. She has refused; but the last time he was a bit provoked when she stated she had another engagement. The worry is: will she lose her job?

I WOULD ADVISE YOU not to accept this invitation, business and pleasure do not mix. If you are a very young girl you do not have a chance to control any situation which could arise if you became too intimate with your employer. He may dismiss you if you do not go out with him, but think, if you do he may become provoked with you for some reason and dismiss you anyway. Keep the record clean and if you must be "sacked," be so without any regrets for incidents or events which may have been the cause.

Remember, you work all day, every day with this man, and unless you are desperately in love with him, it may be difficult for you to entertain him in the evening too. A suggestion for you: in several weeks inform, or allow your employer to hear the news, that you are extremely interested in another man, this may cool his insistence regarding engagements with you.

MOTHER'S DARLING

TIED TO MOTHER'S APRON strings is an only son and child. He is 27 years of age, his father passed away four years ago and his mother depends on his every moment outside his working hours, at times she has attempted to interfere with them. How does one cut the strings?

THIS IS AN OLD AND perpetual problem which many mothers consciously and unconsciously practice. Start immediately, or you will have great difficulty as the years go on, particularly if you ever decide to get married. Begin by staying out of the house two or three evenings a week. You are old enough that you do not have

FIVE FINGER TIPS

Varnish will stay put longer if the nails are scrubbed thoroughly between the operations of removing old varnish and applying new.

To give a professional finish to the nail when varnishing, wrap a tiny twist of cotton wool round the flat end of an orange stick, dip in varnish remover and run stick round edges of the nail and under tips.

To avoid smearing your handiwork, remove varnish smudges on the skin around the nails when varnish on nails is perfectly dry.

If the nails are broken off short or are in bad condition generally, use a conservatively coloured varnish and cover the whole nail. This will make the nails appear longer and will hide defects.

A spot of olive oil or perfumed brillianine rubbed on the nails after varnishing is good for nail and cuticle, and enhances the lustre of the lacquer.

to explain your comings and goings, and don't do it, purposely. Get your mother interested in a circle of her own friends, see that she takes up some work, social service, gardening, sewing for the poor, etc. If she cannot go out try and find some older woman who would come and live with the two of you.

Have certain evening a month where you take her to the theatre or remain with her in the evenings, but stop devoting your whole time to her. See that she makes some of her own decisions, if she refuses, then you make a few wrong decisions for her, she will soon "snap" you up about them if they are not agreeable to you, and at that time you can explain nicely to her, that it would be better for her to decide for herself, then both of you would be happy.

If you can take a short trip away from your mother, of course, seeing that she has some entertainment and companionship while you are gone. Slowly and firmly you can break this habit and the two of you will be far happier with your own interests.

UNSYMPATHETIC

DEAR FAITH PRIOR: I am in love, in some way I have hurt or caused the lady to be angry with me, and I am not exactly sure what I have done! She will not give me the opportunity to explain or question her. She won't see or talk to me. And the worst of it is I love her and this gets my goat, what to do? JUST A MALE.

DEAR MALE: Too bad indeed! Women are queer creatures and believe me when I say there is no man who quite understood them thoroughly. Did you try writing the lady a note and attaching it to a basket of flowers. I take it, the main problem now is for you to have an audience! Can you "eat humble pie" in order to achieve your desire? If so, be humble in the note even though you may have tongue in cheek.

If you have patience pay no attention to the lady, eventually, you will have the chance to see her and your problem will be settled with time. Choosing the latter suggestion, you will find out if she is really interested in you, for she can always write you a short note or call you on the phone, extending

Faultless Taste Contrasts - Navy Blue

JOIN THE NAVY "BLUE" PARADE for ultra chic women—you'll find your venture successful.

And so the perennial urge for Navy swoops down upon us and finds us in a highly receptive mood. Especially so when there are staccato white accents as an added attraction. However, there comes a time in every "gals" life when she makes the important decision to accentuate the deep Navy blue of her frock with fragile pink, daintiest blue, and this year the new gold.

There is nothing that will create a lovelier clear-eyed illusion than a wisp of something soft, something pink about the throat! But for sharp sophistication, there is nothing more chic than the extreme contrasts of white as pure as the driven snow on the darker blues.

If you're a "career" girl, then you'll revel in the basic Navy frock which may be completely transformed in mood with a variety of white accessories. A "little girl" collar encircling your slender throat will place you in the role of "very ingenue," while crisper accents tend to emphasize a definite briskness that is so balanced for business hours—and, of course, there are soft lingerie touches for the time and the place. So join the Navy parade, to the coveted title of having "impeccable taste!"

THE OPEN TOE

Note the two shoe designs on this page. Nothing is smarter with Navy than black patent leather. One is the new version of the open toe, open heel mode with accent on youthful lines, as witness the "little girl" bow in grosgrain ribbon, which is also repeated as a portion of the sides. This shoe is definitely in the dressy mood and the popular bow fad is conservatively treated as a part of the vamp. Both styles make the foot appear attractively trim.

Various blue and other colour combinations for smartness can be included in costume ensembles such as a frock with Navy bodice which serves to foil a redingote skirt revealing a blue and white (large) striped underskirt. And, of course, the polka dot frock.

POLKA DOTS

The insouciant polka dots mean ultra chicness and if it is difficult to feel dressed-up, rely on the dots. The new Gypsy mood goes for polka dots. It is refreshing, to say the least, and a petticoat frock is a modified version of this popular theme. Navy predominates with the fitted midriff section and a petticoat in green and red showing below the hem. Very appealing!

Polka dots can assume sportive airs with great verve as depicted in a softly tailored dress with white collar, cuffs and belt for staccato contrast. The skirt is "swing" about the hips and the bottom fullness waving in the breeze.

Dear to every woman's heart in Hongkong, should be the new Navy blue sheer fabrics of chiffon, georgette, or tulle and crepe voiles. Any of these materials are receptive to innumerable contrasts of colour and material.

Join the "Navy parade," not to see, but to be seen!

EXTREMELY smart, it is big, jacket dress with its dramatic shoulder line and exquisite finger touches.

THE PARIS EXHIBITION

There is no doubt that the very definite trends of the last 12 months owed much of their inspiration to various happenings in France and elsewhere. In the Paris exhibition the most talked of art exhibition was the show of Primitives and of Gothic statuary. From these were evolved graceful dresses, with fullness above the bust and moulded through the body on to a low hip-line, with full sweeping skirts.

an invitation to tea, bridge or a small supper party. There are means she can employ to see you and she knows them. I would wait and bide your time if I were you. Of course, if you just can't, being so very much in love, then be a "mouse."

(Each week in this column FAITH PRIOR answers questions of a personal nature submitted by readers of the "Daily Press".)

NEW HAIRDRESSING AND MAKE-UP

Soft curls will be worn at the nape of the neck, held in place by a ribbon bow, the hair still being kept curled high above the forehead. It was a style worn by the courtiers of the period and for riding, by the ladies of the Court. Make-up also will show a return to the true milk-and-roses complexion of the eighteenth century. Pastels and soft, transparent colours will be used for rouge and eye-shadow, eye-brows curved naturally, and there may even be beauty patches.

The effect of the wimple, so much worn by the ladies of the time, is given in draperies of veiling or chiffon, which fall from the top of the head, to tie under the chin, a satisfactory and becoming form of protection for the hair under tiny pill-box or tricorne hats.

ROUND THE SHOPS

Off they go—the ladies of Hongkong this coming week on a "grand shopping spree." No one is forgetting that next Thursday the Governor of Hongkong is entertaining in honour of the King's Birthday, with a Garden Party!

Be it hot and sunny, or wet and sticky, the Colony's feminine population is definitely "fashion minded" these days.

Picture Hat

When you are in Hongkong, the time of day or even make little difference in the preference of hats. The large brimmed chapeau is "the style" for this climate. And while keeping the sun from your eyes and face, these large styles give the wearer the exotic, or naive, appearance. Dash into MAX'S and have a look! Rough and fine straws in summer's latest colours have definitely fashioned crowns and brims almost as wide as the old-fashioned cartwheel.

But that is not all, noticeable is the return of the picture hat, fine and delicate in chiffon, linen straw, georgette, crepe, and "horse-hair." These particular designs are trimmed with velvet ribbons, flowers, veils and sometimes with chiffon stoll.

A Foundation

There always has to be a "foundation," and in the wardrobe particularly. Great attention and thought should be spent on what the summer costumes are built on. And only one woman in a hundred has the perfect figure-foundation. Step right in to LANE, CRAWFORD'S and your troubles, plus your bulges and sags, vanish, here your problem is solved. The new French garment "Scandale," in several styles, is sold in this shop and, right now, at reduced prices for summer.

The "net-laster" of the garments is strong and durable, also, air-conditioned, washable and has a two-way-stretch. The girdle, pantie-girdle, in light and medium weight, have adjustable garters and are in sizes small, medium and large. These garments can be rolled into a little ball, merely a handful, but the duty they perform for the figure and as a foundation are most satisfactory.

The brassiere problem for summer has been taken care of by "Maiden Form" and "Gossard." The double net bras and the combination of lace and material are strong, durable and pleasing to the wearer during the summer months. Small Medium-Large

RIVELLE, in the Arcade, not only caters to the dress problems of the adult ladies in Hongkong, but now she is tackling the "little ones."

A new line of children's morning and afternoon frocks and play togs are on display. There are many replicas of "mother's" frock in the group. Smart gingham, plaques, volles, percales for morning, having boleros matching and the lengerie touches. Pleats, flares and tucks are use in the checks, prints, and solid coloured fabrics.

The afternoon dresses are both "fussy" and tailored in colourful materials. And the play togs for the young-ones are bright and clever in design of cottons and styles. Play suits, one piece with bolero or jacket have a matching bonnet.

The new collection of dress-sport frocks for grown-up women are sparkling and new with colour. The bright shades combined, or singly, are the definite chic and swank of these simply tailored costumes.

COLOURS FROM GOYA

Close on these came the Goya Exhibition in Paris. This Spanish painting showed lovely ladies in short boleros worn over slim dresses, or over wide skirts, flounced and slightly trained, the waists built high into bright-coloured swathed belts. With these went sweeping sombrero hats, with chin straps, hair bands, and coarse-meshed snoods.

Most conspicuous was Goya's use of bright colour accents, and many of the year's most successful colours and contrasts may be traced to his inspiration. Black and dark blue were brightened by gold, white, silver, and even by grey. "Goya pastels" included pale cyclamen and pinky mauve, soft green-blue and beige-grey, on all of which Fashion quickly set her approval.

"FOUR DAUGHTERS" AT THE KING'S

"Four Daughters," the Warner Bros. picturization of a famous story by Fannie Hurst, will open at the King's Theatre to-day. A moving tale of four devoted sisters who fall in love with the same man, the film has one of the most unique casts in motion picture history.

Given stability by the presence of such tried and true performers as Claude Rains, May Robson, Frank McHugh, and Dick Foran, the cast is made remarkable by a couple of striking circumstances.

First, it marks the only time in motion picture history when three sisters not only played important roles in the same picture but were, in fact, cast as sisters. They are, of course, the Lane girls, Priscilla, Rosemary and Lola. The fourth sister, incidentally, is played by Gale Page, who is said to fit beautifully into the Lane ensemble.

The Warner studio also chose this vehicle to introduce simultaneously two of the most promising young actors it has ever presented in its long history of starmaking. They are Jeffrey Lynn, tall, handsome and charming, a promising candidate for feminine-heart palpitator No. 1, and John Garfield, already famous on the Broadway stage as a young character actor.

Original Scenarios

TEN OUTSTANDING PICTURES

The Academy Award for ten outstanding pictures went in a large majority to films which were adaptations.

Only four out of the ten might be considered as in any way "originals." They were "Test Pilot," "Alexander's Rag-time Band," "Boys Town" and as a doubtful quantity "The Adventures of Robin Hood." Producing companies spend a tremendous amount of time in examining the possibility of likely novels and enormous sums of money in securing film rights. A large quantity of the money is completely wasted in buying rights which are never used.

Assumed Argument
No doubt there is an assumed argument that a successful book or a successful play makes for film publicity when the picture comes to be made.

But what does seem to be a rather remarkable fact is that after pictures have been made for so many years there should be apparently so few of what one might call specialized film dramatists.

But, after all, the cinema is still a young art compared with the others, and doubtless it will develop its writers as well as its technique in a satisfactory slow and sure manner.

BEST-SELLERS BOUGHT BY COLUMBIA PICTURES

Columbia has purchased Margaret Sidney Lothrop's series of best-sellers, "Five Little Peppers," as starring vehicles for Edith Fellows, who is under contract to the company. "Five Little Peppers and How They Grew," soon to be placed in production, will be adapted for the screen by J. Robert Bren and Gladys Atwater. The stories deal with the lives and adventures of an exuberant and indomitable family of fatherless children.

"BOYS TOWN" IS ONE OF YEAR'S BEST PICTURES

Social problem films are usually looked upon with a certain amount of suspicion by most cinemagoers, many of whom see in them highly dramatized, exaggerated and unentertaining portrayals of an aspect of life with which they have little to do, of which they know little and wish to know less.

"BOYS TOWN," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer four-star special, described in leading cinema magazines as one of the best ten pictures of the year, must, speaking strictly, be classed as a social problem film, but this previewer has no hesitation at all in rating its entertainment value, as distinct from educational, among the highest for the past 12 months.

Based on the true life story of Father Edward J. Flanagan, of Omaha, Nebraska, in his fight to establish a home for underprivileged boys, the picture affords Spencer Tracy, co-starred with Mickey Rooney, another opportunity for one of those sincere, natural characterizations for which he is deservedly famous.

Powerful Role
As the idealistic priest who stakes everything on the theory that "there is no such thing as a bad boy," and that, if given a proper chance, juveniles who would otherwise wind up in reformatories and prisons, could become worthwhile citizens—and goes on to prove his theory despite strong opposition—Tracy has a role similar, but even more powerful than, that of Father Tim in "San Francisco." He puts it over as perhaps no other star of to-day can.

Mickey Rooney, as the tough younger brother of a gangster, also turns in one of the best portrayals of his career, revealing a depth of adaptability and dramatic ability he has not previously attained.

Supporting Cast
Headling the supporting cast is Henry Hull, who excels as friend and financial adviser to Tracy and his boys, little Bobb Watson, who is utterly charming as Pee Wee, mascot of Father Flanagan's Home, Gene Reynolds, Frankie Thomas, and Jonathan Hale.

Norman Taurog directed. "Boys Town" opens at the Queen's Theatre to-morrow. Special increased prices will be charged for the 9.30 performance only, the surplus thus gained going to the Society for Protection of Children. It is heartily recommended.—Y. et A.

Edith Fellows, one of Hollywood's leading child actresses, has been starred and featured in many Columbia pictures, among them, "She Married Her Boss," "And So They Were Married," "Rugboat Princess," "Pennies From Heaven," "Little Miss Roughneck," "City Streets" and "The Little Adventurers."

Rochelle Hudson, Columbia's new leading lady, recently placed under long term contract, and Richard Arlen, will be the principals in a new picture entitled "Missing Daughters." It is planned for early production, with C. Coleman, Jr. directing.

COVETED SCREEN ROLE

One of the most highly coveted screen roles of the year has fallen to Barbara Stanwyck.

Miss Stanwyck was signed by Columbia to play the leading feminine role in the picturization of "Golden Boy," the Broadway stage hit by Clifford Odets. She will portray the part of Lorna Moon, a young woman who has battled life in her own way and who throws her heart into the balance while the Golden Boy seeks quick short-cut to a spectacular career. The screen play of "Golden Boy" has been completed by Lewis Meltzer and Daniel Taradash and the production will be made under the supervision of William Perlberg.

"KENTUCKY MOONSHINE"

"Kentucky Moonshine," featuring the three irresistible Ritz Brothers, will open at the Majestic Theatre to-day.

Aside from all the mad antics, the picture contains three new songs by the same team which made the college picture a tune-fest sensation. Lew Pollack and Sidney Mitchell wrote "Moonshine Over Kentucky," "Reuben, Reuben, I've Swungin'" and "Sing a Song of Harvest."

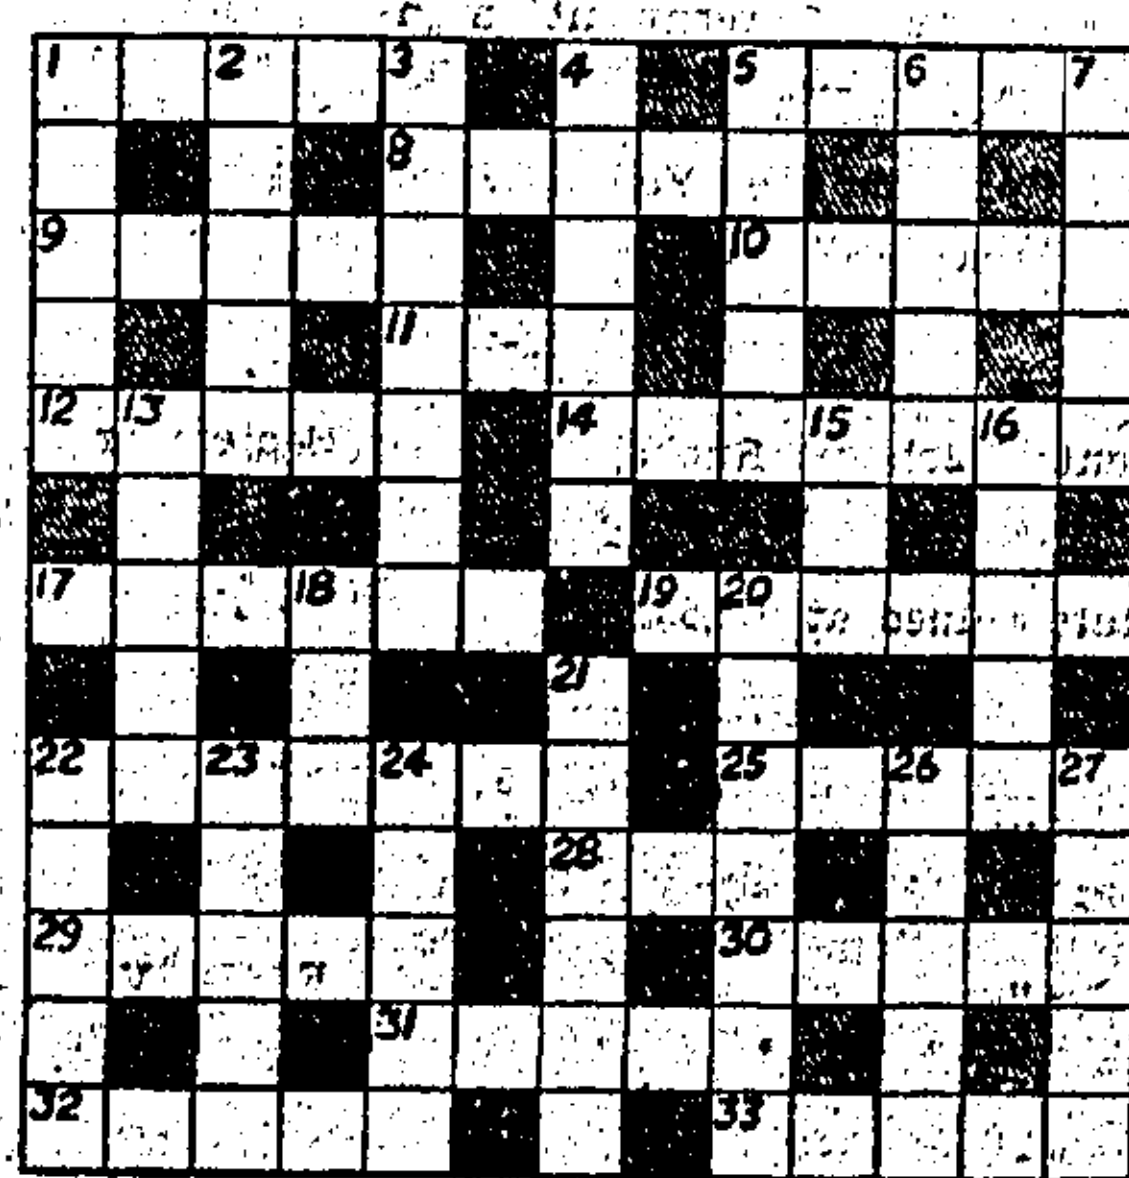

To make sure these melodies are properly sung, producer Darryl F. Zanuck has placed the vocalization in the capable throats of popular Tony Martin and Marjorie Weaver... the romantic interest of the otherwise mad movie.

The plot, what the Ritz Brothers leave of it, is fairly plausible.

TRAVEL ADVENTURES RECOUNTED TO HONGKONG Y'S MEN'S CLUB

The Y's Men's Club of Hongkong was entertained at its weekly dinner yesterday by two speakers, Messrs. Charles Johnson, 20-year old American, and George Cadogan, 24-year old Canadian, who briefly and unassumingly related their travel adventures since they joined forces following a chance meeting in Calcutta.

Dr. Li Shu-pui presided at the meeting.

Mr. Johnson, who spoke first, said he was not much used to speaking, and lived up to that remark by putting his own story in a very few words.

Started From Canada

He said Mr. Cadogan had started out from Canada a year ago exactly. Working his way across the North Atlantic Ocean on board a Norwegian freighter, he had gone through the British Isles, Holland, Belgium, into Germany, being in that latter country during the September crisis of last year.

Thence he had gone on to Austria, Greece, Egypt and Palestine. A trip across the desert to Iraq, and he found himself in India, where he stayed for four months studying the people and the conditions under which they lived.

Teamed Up

In the meantime Mr. Johnson himself had left the United States, and, via Japan and China, had also arrived in India. There the two of them teamed up, with the intention of going through the new Burma road. When they arrived in Burma, however, they had found that was impracticable, so they went through the jungle, using a route practically unknown to foreign travellers to Siam.

Mr. Cadogan enlarged upon the details of his own trip, and described the jungle journey, which he said was the highlight of his 12-months' travels.

No Place Like Home

The speakers were thanked by Mr. K. S. Lee, who, however, announced that for him there was no place like home, and he did not wish to be anywhere else. (Laughter.)

CATHOLIC CATHEDRAL CEREMONY

GUNNER OFFICER MARRIED

At the Roman Catholic Cathedral in Hongkong yesterday afternoon, a very pretty wedding took place when Miss Susanne Petri, daughter of Major A. V. Petri, G.S.O.J., for Anti-Gas Training at the China Command Headquarters, and Mrs. Petri, became the wife of Lieut. E. W. Sconce, R.A., who is stationed at Singapore.

The bride, who arrived in the Colony last week with her mother, looked very charming and was given away by her father.

Bishop H. Valtorta, Vicar Apostolic of Hongkong, assisted by the Rev. C. J. Winstanley, C.F., performed the ceremony, Capt. A. F. D. Colson, R.A., carried out the duties of bestman.

A reception was held, following the ceremony, at the Hongkong Club Annexe, about 100 guests being present, including H.E. the G.O.C., Major Gen. A. E. Grasett, and Mrs. Grasett, and Col. A. G. Neville, M.C., G.S.O.I., and Mrs. Neville.

The honeymoon is to be spent at Baguio, P.I.

MARRIAGES AT REGISTRY

The weddings took place at the Supreme Court yesterday between Mr. Don Tait-moy, aeronautical engineer, and Miss Ng King-oi, residing at No. 87, Bonham Road, and Mr. Fui Tsi-shen, merchant, and Miss Tse Ko-wan, of No. 60, Cheung Sha Wan Road.

Mr. T. J. Gould, Deputy Registrar of Marriages, officiated.

SEEKING AID FOR REFUGEES

From Pan American Airways Public Relations Department, Miami, Florida, comes the above photograph of Miss Lee Ya-ching of Hongkong, who left Hongkong by Clipper some months ago and is visiting every large city in the United States, flying her own plane, to solicit funds and assistance for Chinese refugees.

Miss Lee is well-known in Hongkong's social and aviation circles, is an expert pilot, being the only female Chinese member of the famous Caterpillar Club of the United States, which is restricted to pilots who have parachuted out of planes safely.

Miss Lee also recently obtained a motion picture contract in Hollywood.

X-Rays May Make Roses Big As Trees

If you are having trouble with your roses or your cucumbers—be patient.

Experiments now being carried out are producing plants double and treble their normal size.

The experiments follow the accidental discovery that colchicine, a chemical used to destroy fungus, has a different property when subjected to X-ray treatment.

DOUBLES THE SIZE

After X-ray the fungus thrived and doubled in size.

Professor R. H. Stoughton, England's only horticultural professor, describing the discovery in a recent lecture, said the idea is to give a flower special treatment, based on the accidental discovery.

As the flower comes into seed, the treatment doubles the characteristics of the plant.

Seeds from a normal plant become twice as large as untreated plants, and subsequently produce double size plants when they in turn grow into complete bloom.

The death occurred at Palacegate, W., recently of Mr. Alfred Markham Townsend, at the age of 83. He was the son of the Rev. T. J. M. Townsend, of Searby, Lincolnshire, and was late manager of the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation.

A Japanese captive, Shinichi Takada, formerly a tailor of foreign clothes in Japan, and three captured Korean women, Po Ssang-hua, Pal Yu-chu and Pal Fung-ai, are helping the Loyal Women's Work Commission in making uniforms for Chinese soldiers. The Commission has launched a campaign for soldiers' uniforms.

Acting upon instructions from the French Government, Commander Ferte-Senere, Air Attache of the French Embassy in China, has conducted an investigation into the extent of damage to the French Church caused by Japanese planes in a recent air raid in Ichang. He will make a report to his home government. He left here for Chungking en route to Kunming on Wednesday.

BOYS AND GIRLS!

Here's a wonderful opportunity for you to make some extra pocket money and to get a free ticket to see M.G.M.'s picture entitled "BOYS TOWN," co-starring Spencer Tracy and Mickey Rooney. The picture was voted one of the ten best pictures of the year, and though it just failed by the narrowest margin to nose out Columbia's picture "You Can't Take It With You" for the Academy Award for the best picture of the year, it nevertheless secured two other Academy Awards just the same. Spencer Tracy won the award for the best male performance of the year for his portrayal of Father Flanagan in "BOYS TOWN," and the writers of the story received the other award for the best screen story of the year. The picture will play simultaneously at the Queen's and Alhambra Theatres from to-morrow.

All you have to do to secure a subscription for the "Hongkong Daily Press" for a minimum period of six months from a relative or friend. For the first thirty subscriptions received, each successful contestant will receive 50 per cent. of the whatever subscriptions he secures as commission and a free ticket to the best seat in the Queen's or Alhambra Theatres to see "BOYS TOWN" with Spencer Tracy and Mickey Rooney. After the first thirty subscriptions are received, we will only pay the commission, so send your subscriptions in early to get the free cinema ticket as well.

Each contestant can submit as many subscriptions as secured and qualify for the commission and cinema tickets.

In all, there will be four competitions of this kind, each lasting one week. For each, similar prizes will be given (except that the picture for which the free cinema ticket is presented will vary), but, at the end of the fourth competition, the "Hongkong Daily Press" will, in addition to the prizes and commissions earned, offer a special prize of $20.00 to the competitor who has brought in the largest number of new subscribers—so long as the number is not less than twenty.

This is the third contest of the series and will remain in force until 12 noon to-day.

Subscription rates for the "Daily Press" are as follows:—

6 months	$15.
12 "	$30.

SCANDALOUS STATE OF AFFAIRS

Discrimination Against South African Chinese

(Special to the "Hongkong Daily Press")

BY H. CLYDE KELLY

A SCANDALOUS STATE OF AFFAIRS, TANTAMOUNT TO A DEATH-SENTENCE, AND A TYPICAL EXAMPLE OF VICIOUS FASCIST LEGISLATION was the reaction of Mr. A. Oshry, Legal Adviser of the Transvaal Chinese Association, to the Asiatic Land and Trading Bill, when interviewed by a special representative of the "Hongkong Daily Press."

The Consul General for China, Mr. Faristan T. Sung, when approached to make a statement in this matter, told me that he could not express an opinion to the press at this juncture as any remarks coming from him would constitute a serious breach of diplomatic etiquette.

"However, you can say," said Mr. Sung, "that since my arrival in South Africa, I have been studying closely the possibilities of a reciprocal trade agreement between this country and China. My Government, despite the war of invasion, is seriously considering the mutual advantages that could result from increased trade between the two nations," he added.

Many Anomalies

Mr. Oshry pointed out that the proposed legislation was studied with anomalies, the first of which was the fact that the Bill was aimed not at the Chinese in South Africa, but rather at the Indian community, in view of the well-established belief that the Union Government would like to see the Indians repatriated.

He gave, as his main reason, the large number of Indians in this country, and the few Chinese now resident there.

Continuing, Mr. Oshry stated that the Bill was both discriminatory and inconsistent.

He illustrated by reference to the status quo of the Japanese in South Africa who, because of a "Gentlemen's Agreement," though subject to past Asiatic legislation and this latest endeavour to subjugate the Chinese, enjoy privileges from which the Chinese are barred.

Ridiculous Arrangement

"Frankly, I cannot see the logic or such a ridiculous arrangement, exemptions for one race and discrimination against another of the same colour," he said.

Mr. Oshry explained that the new Bill (the Asiatic Land and Trading Bill) included the Japanese, but pointed to the facts that while the Japanese can visit theatres, have their hair cut by European barbers and purchase liquor, the Chinese are discriminated against in every respect.

"Only a few years ago, when a member of the diplomatic corps entertained the officials of the various foreign consulates at a theatre party and at a certain Johannesburg theatre, a scene was made by the theatre officials, when they refused to permit the members of the Chinese Consulate to enter until they had successfully identified themselves as connected with the Consulate," he stated.

New Definition

Mr. Oshry also referred scathingly to the definition of an Asiatic as set down in the Act of 1919, namely, "Asiatic is defined as any Turk and member of a race or tribe whose national home is in Asia, but shall exclude any member of the Jewish or Syrian race or a person belonging to the race known as the Cape Malay."

"And why exclude the Chinese from this definition when they in no way constitute a menace either to the economic or social welfare of the Europeans in South Africa," he asked.

"As a matter of fact," said Mr. Oshry, "the record of the Chinese in the courts of the country is the finest of all races, and for the last 18 months the only breaches in the law in which they have been concerned have related to gambling and selling yeast."

"This is just another example of crude injustice suffered by the Chinese here," he continued.

"Because of the narrow and unintelligent law that prevents the small Chinese shopkeeper, who is essentially peace-loving and law-abiding, to trade normally, he has been forced into the less desirable, in order to earn a living for himself and his family. The result is that he sooner or later finds himself in the Magistrate's Court charged with selling yeast. He is literally compelled to sell it because the natives, who comprise the bulk of his customers, will patronise only the shop where they can buy yeast."

"Stupid Legislation" — "Therefore, I place the onus for the illicit trade in liquor among natives directly on the shoulders of the Government, as they are entirely responsible for such stupid legislation," Mr. Oshry stated.

Another glaring anomaly was that in the Cape, the Chinese are allowed to own property and buy liquor, whereas, in the Transvaal, that was not the case.

"To be sure, a Magistrate has the power to exempt certain Chinese, but the procedure is too cumbersome and, besides, does not alter the principle involved."

Replying to a question as to whether or not the Chinese would co-operate with the Indians in their passive resistance campaign, Mr. Oshry stated that some of the influential Chinese had been approached by the Indian leaders in this respect.

Civic Record

"The Chinese rejected the idea completely, including the Transvaal Chinese Association, as they feel that their interests are not large enough and that having the sympathy of the general public behind them, intelligent negotiation with the Union Government will bring redress to the unsatisfactory state of affairs among the Chinese in South Africa," he added.

Concluding, Mr. Oshry expressed the hope that the Union Government would see fit to offer the necessary protection to a minority people in South Africa, a people whose civic record is so exemplary.

SHUMCHUN RURAL WELFARE

DRILLING AND PHYSICAL TRAINING DISPLAY

SHUMCHUN:—A DISPLAY OF DRILLING AND PHYSICAL TRAINING WAS GIVEN AT THE SPORTS MEETING HELD ON TUESDAY, MAY 23 BY THE THREE SCHOOLS MANAGED AND SUPPORTED BY THE SHUMCHUN RURAL WELFARE CENTRE.

The Sports Meeting was the first of the kind ever held in the Shumchun area. More than 300 school children of all ages were present, and the spectators from the three villages were over 500.

The Elders of the Three villages were present, as were the representatives of the Magistrate and the Police Commissioner. Mr. Percy Chen, the Chairman of the Centre, addressed the gathering.

Commencing at 11 a.m. the competitors and participants marched from their respective villages to the spacious playground of the Tsoi Yuk Wai School. This school was constructed about five years ago from donations from Overseas members of the Tsoi family.

DRILL DISPLAY:

The first part of the programme was a drill display by the massed schools, followed by displays by individual schools, the best display winning a certain number of points to be used in judging the Champion School of the Meet.

The second part of the programme consisted of field events, with flat races for boys and girls of different ages. Creditable performances were given in the boys' hundred yards race and the girls' seventy-five yards. It was a most gratifying sight to witness the race of the smallest boys and girls and the enthusiasm displayed by both the contestants and the spectators, young and old. As each school gained a victory, the cheer leaders of the schools led a school cry which would have done credit to an American University.

Another popular event with the spectators was the high jump in which a jump of 4 feet 6 inches was accomplished by a fifteen year old boy.

A.R.P. DEMONSTRATION:

The efficacy of air raid precaution training was brought home by a display which included patriotic and propagandist elements.

The children were lined up in the centre of the playground for gymnastics. The air raid signal was given and immediately a dash was made for cover under the trees. Some fell on the ground and lay flat on their faces motionless, while groups of three or four stood close together to simulate a tree or other natural object remaining motionless until the enemy planes should pass away.

The students cleverly made use of the opportunity to stage a performance for the spectators. From the right side of the playground came the sound of engines and a flight of Japanese planes came slowly forward. This was represented by a boy carried by his comrades with outstretched hands on which wings were fastened.

After these planes had circled the field, the sound of engines from the right of the playground were heard. These were the Chinese planes arriving to combat the enemy. To the accompaniment of fire-crackers, the battle of the aerial forces took place and continued until, to the cheers of the spectators, the last Japanese plane was shot down.

THE GIRL STUDENTS:

The pictures of the sports reproduced here show that the young girls from the age of seven to fifteen were not far behind the boys in their achievements. To those who are familiar with rural welfare work, the reluctance sometimes shown by the peasant womenfolk to participate in public activities is a drawback. We have to rely upon the social workers drawn from among the peasant women and girls themselves to carry out the necessary reforms in regard to health, children upbringing, etc. For this reason a great effort is being made by the Shumchun Rural Welfare Centre to attract the girls and womenfolk into the work of the Centre.

To the female workers of the Centre, such as Misses Li Tak-han, Chen Po-yin and Fu Tak-san, must go the credit for introducing a new element into village culture through gaining the absolute confidence of the girls and of the women of the area in which we are working.

In the programme of the sports meeting, two items of dancing were introduced. The first was a group dance by six girl students of Tsoi Yuk Wai School. The second was a classical Chinese song and dance by a eleven-year-old student, Miss Tsoi Mei-yuen.

CONCLUSION:

The result of four months work by the Educational Brigade has provided the Centre with 20 energetic and capable organizers and instructors each of whom would be able to undertake the creation of a local centre with a unit of 2,000 persons. This is the average size village community. The first task which must be accomplished by the Centre in any locality in which it works is the gaining of the confidence of the farmers. This task has been successfully accomplished.

It is considered that conditions in the area in which the Centre has worked have returned to normal. The farmers are going about their daily tasks as usual, the children are in school, but in view of the losses sustained during the two evacuations, the first harvest will barely cover the hole made in the savings of the peasants by their expenses incurred during their enforced stay in Hongkong.

So that although the policy of the Centre is to gradually transfer the expense of the upkeep of the schools on a free educational basis to the village communities, it is felt that some assistance will be necessary until after the first harvest.

An extension of the educational work will be made in three other villages in the immediate neighbourhood. It is hoped that by the end of another three months there will be a total of over 1,000 students being educated free at the schools of the Shumchun Rural Welfare Centre.

SOVIET WARNS JAPAN

M. MOLOTOV, the Soviet Foreign Commissar, has uttered a solemn warning to Tokyo that his Government intends no longer to stand any more nonsense from Japan so far as its Far Eastern frontiers are concerned. Moscow has had enough of Japan's bluff and M. Litvinoff's successor is determined to call it once and for all. The U.S.S.R. has been exceptionally tolerant with Japan, as have the other Democratic Powers having interests in this part of the world. Insults and provocations on the part of the Japanese have time and again been borne with patience and so serious and so frequent have these become that Moscow, to use the now-famous words of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, has arrived at the limit of its endurance and decided that the time has arrived to call a halt.

"THOSE CONCERNED should realize that the Soviet will not tolerate any provocation on the part of the Japanese and Manchukuo troops against its borders," asserted M. Molotov in the course of a statement before the Soviet Supreme Council. "We will defend the frontiers of the republic with the same determination as our own. There is a limit to patience. We have given warning to this effect to the Tokyo Government through the Japanese Ambassador here."

DEALING WITH Soviet policy towards China, M. Molotov remarked that the statement made by M. Josef Stalin regarding support for nations which become victims of aggression and which are fighting for their independence fully applied to China in her struggle for national freedom. "We are," the Soviet Foreign Commissar said, "constantly carrying out this policy as it is fully in line with the task facing the

INDIAN POLICE OFFICER FACES GRAVE CHARGE

Alleged Extortion And Misconduct

Hearing of the case against Amrik Singh, Indian Lance Sergeant, B380, of the Hongkong Police, who is charged on four counts of receiving bribes totalling $3.60 and four alternative charges of misconduct as a police officer, was continued before Mr. E. H. Himsforth, at the Kowloon Court, yesterday.

Evidence was given by a stall fold, of Mongkok Market, Yip Hing, who testified that the defendant approached his master at Stall No. 74 about 4.30 o'clock on March 17.

Yip stated: "I saw an Indian come to collect money. He came to my master and stretched out his hand to collect his weekly money. My master gave it to him. The Indian came from the direction of Stall No. 73, and after my master paid him he walked away in the direction of Stall No. 75."

Another witness, Lin Tuen, gave evidence of the marking of money which was paid to the defendant in bribes.

Hearing was further adjourned to June 7 at 11.30 p.m. Inspector E. G. Post, of the Secretariat for Chinese Affairs, is prosecuting, while the defendant is represented by Mr. Hin-shing Lo.

QUEEN MARY'S THANKS FOR COLONY'S WISHES

In reply to a telegram sent by His Excellency the Governor to Queen Mary through the Secretary of State for the Colonies, conveying to her the good wishes of the Colony on the occasion of her 72nd birthday, the following reply was received yesterday by His Excellency:—

"Your telegram has been laid before Her Majesty Queen Mary, who desires that an expression of her sincere thanks for the message contained therein may be conveyed to you."

Soviet in Europe for the establishment of a united front of peaceable Powers against further aggression."

IN THIS CONNECTION, the Soviet attitude on the British draft proposals regarding mutual assistance against aggression has aroused keen interest. Moscow takes the view that nothing short of a full military alliance, or an exclusively defensive pact, between Great Britain, France and the U.S.S.R., covering the Far East as well as Europe, combined with a triple guarantee for the whole belt of countries between the Baltic and the Black Sea, would serve as a convincing, businesslike, decisive "encirclement for defence" against Germany. To revert now to half-measures, the Soviet argues, would present Germany with a ludicrous anticlimax, would destroy the excellent work so far accomplished, and would ensure, not only peace but the crumbling of the entire Peace Bloc.

MR. CHAMBERLAIN, however, holds that there is such a thing as over-doing it, of defeating the object in another sense, of driving Germany into a corner whence she might plunge into another war. Yet he is inflexibly bent upon the achievement of a substantial purpose of Russian co-operation with France and Britain for the deterrent purpose of restraining German aggression and it is reasonable to expect that the present Anglo-Soviet-French parleys will succeed. They must succeed. Nothing less is at stake than what Mr. Chamberlain once postulated not only as peace, but confidence that peace will be maintained, and, if peace is to be maintained, frank and friendly co-operation between the Soviet and Britain are of paramount importance—in the Far East as well as in Europe.

THE WEATHER: OVERCAST SKIES AGAIN

The pleasant sunshine which yesterday broke a long spell of dull and wet weather will again give way to-day to overcast skies and showery conditions, according to the Royal Observatory forecast.

The maximum temperature yesterday was 78 and the minimum 71, which, with the relatively moderate average humidity of 81, afforded some comfort and relief to weather-tired Hongkong people.

The sun was especially welcome to sportsmen who had been deprived of their favourite outdoor exercises for several days past.

MAY'S HEAVY RAINFALL

A total of 23.75 inches of rain fell in the Colony during May. The heaviest fall was on May 22, when 6.74 inches were recorded.

The month started with a wet day, but only 2.2 inches fell on May 1. Eight days of fine weather followed and on May 10, a heavy downpour registered 3.89 inches.

The weather again brightened up, except for sporadic showers,

IRRIGATION WORK IN MODERN CHINA

SCIENTIFIC TRADITIONS OF THE PAST AND MODERN METHODS OF ENGINEERING

The foundation of a nation's wealth is in the productiveness of its soil. For, notwithstanding the technical advances enjoyed by modern communities, agriculture still remains as it must always be—the universal supporter of life.

This fact has been recognized since the most ancient times, and it did not require an Adam Smith to point out that some method of promoting the growth of crops, other than that of dependence on the vagaries of natural rainfall, was indispensable for the existence of the people. Consequently, irrigation was introduced, and from remote antiquity the artificial use of water for agricultural purposes has been practised.

Egypt was probably the first country to place complete reliance on the methods of irrigation, and to this day, the wealth of that nation is largely dependent on the inundation of the land by the river Nile; so much so is this that the saying has been coined that "Egypt is the Nile and the Nile is Egypt."

Here, of course, irrigation has been more or less of a natural process, but a great deal has been done for accelerating and increasing its benefits by constructing dams, ditches, and sluices for the control of the annual floods. The greatest of these conservancy projects is said to be the Assuan Dam, the construction of which was finished a few years ago. The success of the methods followed in Egypt is seen not only in arid regions of the globe, but also in countries where there is a natural rainfall.

CORPORATE SYSTEM:

The adoption of irrigation methods has been particularly successful in India, the western states of America, and China. The irrigating systems found along the Ganges, Cauvery, Godavary, and other Indian rivers are world famous, while those of the western United States are remarkable for the vast acreage involved. But as an economic feature, extolling the genius of an ancient people, the corporate irrigation system of China is perhaps unsurpassed.

The Chinese have always been interested in the subject of irrigation, and being "farmers for forty centuries," have taken the lead in solving the problem of insufficient rainfall, providing certain and profitable crops.

Their plan of irrigation is a most sensible one, being based on the proved method of constructing dams in which the river water is impounded and carried to the lower areas by an ingenious system of canals. Some of the latter are of the greatest antiquity, and viewed in the light of modern achievements, are remarkable feats of engineering. One of these, the Grand Canal, has been celebrated for centuries, and enjoys the reputation of being the most stupendous work of the kind ever attempted by man.

ANCIENT METHOD:

But for irrigation systems pure and simple, although it does also serve the utilitarian purpose of providing a route for water transport, the 2,000-year-old conservancy work of the engineer Li Ping, Governor of Szechuen, is justly famed. It is still in operation to this day, and contributes to the production of an annual agricultural yield of $100,000,000.

The Min River has been made to enhance the fertility of the Ching-ta delta, and it is estimated that there are over 850,000 acres of land which receive its benefit.

The principal features of this great irrigation scheme have been largely followed in similar works elsewhere, and embrace a complex system of dams and dykes, strongly built of granite boulders and basalt, of egg-shaped stones, kept in position by thousands of bamboo and wooden piles driven into the river bed. In recent years, various but from May 19 rain fell steadily until May 22 when the highest fall was registered.

Three days of fine weather followed this downpour and from May 26 until the end of the month rain has fallen daily, the heaviest fall during the period May 28 to 31 being 2.34 inches on May 30.

Soviet Attitude To Anglo-French Proposals Explained By M. Molotov

GUARANTEE FOR BALTIC COUNTRIES WANTED

NOT WILLING TO "PULL OTHERS' CHESTNUTS OUT OF THE FIRE"

MOSCOW, JUNE 1 (REUTERS)—SPEAKING IN THE SOVIET PARLIAMENT YESTERDAY, M. MOLOTOV, Chairman of the Peoples Commissar and Foreign Commissar, characterised the Anglo-French proposals as containing several reservations which may render the agreement ineffective.

He said that the Soviet insisted that the pact should be of an exclusively defensive character, a guarantee for all neighbours of the Soviet and a concrete agreement for mutual help if one of the signatories were attacked.

M. Molotov declared that the Soviet stands unreservedly for the union of all peace-loving powers, to curb aggression, but we must be careful to remember M. Stalin's warning not to allow ourselves to pull others' chestnuts out of the fire.

Absolute Equality

The delegates cheered as M. Molotov said this, while M. Stalin, M. Voroshilov and other members of the Political Bureau, as well as M. Litvinov, joined in the five-minute ovation when M. Molotov declared that the Soviet insisted on absolute equality.

M. Molotov added: "Our place is in the first rank among the Powers," and he went on to say that the latest Anglo-French proposals admitted reciprocity, "which is a step forward," but he indicated that the Baltic countries were not yet guaranteed and that the Soviet could not, therefore, undertake obligations concerning countries remaining neutral and who were unable to defend their neutrality.

No Consultation Needed

M. Molotov said that the negotiations with Britain were continuing, "but we insist on our point of view, concerning which we do not need to consult anyone."

Aggressors recognized long ago, he declared, that Soviet foreign policy was directed against aggression, but the Democratic Powers had only lately admitted this. The changes in the British attitude were recently noted "and we, therefore, accepted their offers for negotiations."

Relations With Axis

While lashing out at aggressors generally, M. Molotov mentioned the improvement in the Russo-Italian relations and added: "We do not refuse to improve our trade relations with Germany."

He said that the Soviet-German trade negotiations recently carried on had been momentarily interrupted, but there were signs that they might be resumed.

DIFFERENCES OF FORM RATHER THAN SUBSTANCE

LONDON, June 1 (Reuters).—Reuters's diplomatic correspondent learns that now that the full report of the Soviet Foreign Commissar, M. Molotov's speech has been received in London, the impression prevails in British official circles that the difference between the two viewpoints are differences of form, rather than of substance.

Until the actual reply of the Russian Government is received it will not be possible to say how important are these questions of form.

So far as the references to the League are concerned, it is not expected that any serious divergence will occur with a State which has been such an unflinching supporter of the League principles.

As regards the Baltic states and the question of guarantee the British hold that every State has a right to its integrity and independence and that it would be a matter of principle not to force the guarantee upon any State unwilling to accept it.

British opinion finds all acts of aggression are hateful.

STERN SOVIET WARNING TO JAPAN

FRONTIER VIOLATIONS MUST BE STOPPED

Duty To Aid Mongolia Against Aggression

MOSCOW, JUNE 1 (REUTERS)—DEALING WITH "FRONTIER QUESTIONS," IN HIS SPEECH BEFORE THE SOVIET SUPREME COUNCIL YESTERDAY, M. MOLOTOV, declared: "By now those concerned should realize that the Soviet will not tolerate any provocation on the part of Japanese and Manchukuan troops on its borders."

"We must now remind them of this with regard to the frontiers of the Mongolian Peoples' Republic as well. In accordance with the pact of mutual assistance between the Soviet and that Republic, we deem it our duty to render the Republic any necessary help in protecting her borders. "We take seriously such things as a pact of mutual assistance signed by the Soviet."

"It must utter a warning that on the strength of this pact we will defend the frontiers of the Republic with the same determination as our own. It is time to realize that the accusations of aggression against Japan levelled by Japan against the Government of the Republic are ridiculous and absurd."

"It will, therefore, be best to drop in good time the constantly recurring provocative violations of the frontiers of the U.S.S.R. and the Mongolian Peoples Republic by Japanese and Manchukuan military units. We have given a warning to this effect through the Japanese Ambassador in Moscow."

Soviet Will Aid China

M. MOLOTOV'S DECLARATION

MOSCOW, June 1 (Reuters).—Referring to the Soviet attitude towards China, in the course of his speech before the Soviet Supreme Council yesterday, M. Molotov declared: "You are well acquainted with M. Stalin's statement regarding support for nations which become the victims of aggression and who are fighting for the independence of their countries."

"This fully applies to China in her struggle for national independence," he said. "We are constantly carrying out this policy in practice."

It was fully in line, M. Molotov declared, with the task facing the Soviet in Europe for a united front by the peaceable powers against further aggression.

A Reuters message from Tokyo states that Japan has formally recognized the independent Slovak Government. The recognition was notified in a letter from the Japanese Foreign Minister, Mr. H. Arita, to the Slovak Foreign Minister, M. Durcansky.

FOUR AWKWARD QUESTIONS IN NEGOTIATIONS

British Public Impatient

Speaking from Daventry last night, Mr. H. V. Hodson said that the British public were all baffled and impatient over a very complex question, namely, the Soviet agreement. A drama was being enacted at the present moment which was not an elementary one but one in which a number of awkward questions were intertwined.

The first was the British guarantee to Poland and Rumania. Russia was regarded by Poland as much a potential enemy as Germany, and the Poles are loathe to agree to an agreement with Soviet Russia at any price.

The second was that Rumania feared Russian encroachment over her frontier and believed that if the Red Army was allowed into their territory they will never leave.

The third was that Russia wanted a guarantee for the smaller Baltic states as well as other buffer states to which Great Britain was not yet ready to offer any guarantee. Therefore, the Soviet said, "Let's have a direct military alliance."

The fourth question was that Russia is an Asiatic as well as a European Power. If Britain allies herself with Moscow the question of Japan and "Manchukuo" will certainly arise, and Britain's Far Eastern policy and territory would, no doubt, be affected.

NOT SOLID OBSTACLE

However, said, Mr. Hodson, this was not a solid rock obstacle, and there was no intention to apply any alliance that may be reached, to the Far East. It will be confined to European aggression.

Tokyo was acting very cautiously over the proposed axis military alliance although she was a keen adherent to the Anti-Comintern Pact. She knows that the chief source of China's arms, which are being used against Japan, come from Germany so she has been stopping ships, German as well as British and French, and this may cause dissatisfaction in the axis ranks.

There were, Mr. Hodson added, psychological obstacles on both sides because each looked upon the other with suspicion.

The peace bloc must stand shoulder to shoulder, against aggression. No country in these days can avoid making up its mind on great issues. Every country has moral decision to make and should make it without delay.

SUPPRESSION OF I.R.A.

DUBLIN, June 1 (Reuters).—The Senate passed, by 28 votes to 9, the Offences Against the State Bill, which aims at the suppression of I.R.A. activities in conjunction with the Treason Bill, which is now law.

Germans Who Fought In Spain

VICTORY PARADE BEFORE HITLER

HAMBURG, JUNE 1 (REUTERS).—VOLUNTEERS RETURNING FROM SPAIN "GOOSE-STEPPED" PAST FIELD-MARSHAL VON GOERING, Reich Minister for Air, who, in addressing them, announced that the Germans who had fought in Spain would participate in the victory parade before Herr Hitler on Tuesday.

Field-Marshal Goering also announced that the German Fuehrer had founded a special medal which would be awarded immediately, bronze for all who participated in the war and gold, with brilliants, for exceptional deeds of courage.

The last-named medal was awarded to thirty-nine officers, including Gen. Sperle, a former Commander of the Legion. Field-Marshal von Goering further declared that the Kondor Legion would remain ever alive for Herr Hitler, had ordered the squadron of anti-aircraft battery and the signal detachment to bear this name in future.

NOTE TO BRITISH CONSUL

Japanese Request For Tientsin Assassins

TOKYO, June 1 (Reuters).—Mr. Hiroko Tanaka, Japanese Consul in Tientsin, sent a note to the British Consul-General, Mr. E. G. Jamieson, at 6 p.m. on Wednesday, requesting him to deliver the assassins of Cheng Shi-kang, Commissioner of Customs in Tientsin, to the Japanese authorities not later than noon on June 7, according to a Tientsin message.

The assassination occurred in a cinema in the British Concession in Tientsin on April 9 and the Japanese authorities are alleged to have made no definite reply to the Japanese request for the extradition of the assassins.

JAPANESE DETAIN BRITON

COL. SPEAR

MILITARY ATTACHE IN CHINA

SHANGHAI, June 1 (Reuters).—The British Military Attache in China, Col. C. R. Spear, has been detained by the Japanese in Kalgan.

Col. Spear started a tour with the Communist armies in the interior of China three months ago. He planned to filter through the Japanese lines and to finally emerge in Peking.

The detention was apparently effected when Col. Spear crossed from the Chinese to the Japanese lines.

Lieut. Cooper, British language officer, has left for Kalgan from Peking to endeavour to contact Lt.-Col. Spear.

MORE HOPEFUL TURN TAKEN AT KULANGSU

TOKYO, June 1 (Reuters).—The position in Kulangsu has taken a more hopeful turn, according to a message from Amoy.

Negotiations have been proceeding on the Japanese demand and the Japanese Consul-General had informal talks with the French and British Consuls-General, which were apparently conducted in an amicable atmosphere. He also saw the Chairman of the Municipal Council.

U.S. SAILOR'S GALLANTRY

SHANGHAI, June 1 (Reuters).—Fireman Mantock, of the United States submarine No. 40 risked his life yesterday evening when he plunged into the muddy Whangpoo from the bund and saved a jobless 23-year-old Chinese who was trying to commit suicide.

An emergency ambulance took the Chinese to the hospital where he expressed appreciation for the rescue.

Mantock's gallantry was especially meritorious because but a few people come out alive from a plunge into the Whangpoo owing to its dangerous undercurrents.

CONSCRIPTION CONDEMNED

Labour Party Conference Maintains That Voluntary System Has Not Failed

LONDON, June 1 (Reuters).—The Labour Party Conference, by a huge majority, passed a resolution moved by the Executive, condemning the introduction of conscription, despite the Government's repeated pledges to uphold the voluntary system, demanding that the pay and allowances for militiamen should be similar to those of the Regular Army, declaring that the voluntary system had not failed and calling for every effort to ensure its increasing success.

Another resolution endorsed the National Council of Labour's attitude regarding participation in all steps necessary to secure the proper protection of the civil population in war time.

A further resolution, demanding the complete cessation of all further efforts of all National Service schemes, excepting the A.R.P., was defeated by a big majority.

Dr. Hugh Dalton, in introducing a statement on the policy on labour and defence, said that it was his proposal to set up a Ministry of Defence with much greater powers than in the present Ministry of Co-ordination of Defence.

IRISHMEN IN BRITAIN

DUBLIN, June 1 (Reuters).—Mr. Eamon de Valera said in the Dail yesterday, that every Irishman between the ages of 20 and 21 residing in Britain for two years or over would be liable for military service unless he could show that he was following a course of education.

TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS IN THE COLONY

In the Colony of Hongkong including the Island, Kowloon and the New Territories during the week ending at 8 a.m. on Saturday, May 27, 1939, there were altogether 101 traffic accidents as the result of which 3 persons were killed and 37 persons were injured.

Of persons killed, a 10-year-old girl was knocked down and killed by a taxicab while running across the road.

Of persons injured, 26 were pedestrians, who were either walking or running across the road and were struck by vehicles.

Of 101 accidents, 40 were collisions between vehicles; 35 were collisions between vehicles and pedestrians; 26 accidents were due to other causes.

SHOT FOKI HIT BY TABLE

A European constable also arrived on the scene and by this time the usual crowd of curious onlookers had gathered.

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL
In response to a telephone message an ambulance from the Hongkong Fire Brigade arrived and the injured man was taken to the Queen Mary Hospital, where, after treatment he was allowed to return home.

The remains of the man long table top could be seen on the floor of the barber shop.

It was learned from the Wan-chai Police last night that Lui Cheung's injury was not serious.

The accident recalls to mind a mishap several years ago in the Central district when a bamboo pole fell from a verandah and pierced the foot of a passer-by actually splitting his leg.

In another instance, if memory serves aright, a Chinese woman met her death in the street in similar circumstances.

A Reuters message from Berlin states that private flying over Bohemia and Moravia is prohibited. The prohibition was enacted when Germany annexed the territories but the ban was relaxed until now.

SABLE CICADA AT TAI PING THEATRE

The part of Sable Cicada was given the icy tenderness surrounding the personality by Mrs. George Lau, while Mr. John Yuen was a very good Tung Tao and Mr. Chung Ki-yuen also gave a fine performance in the role of Wang Wen.

The trying scene, where Re Poo and Sable Cicada are disturbed by the arrival of the aged tyrant, was easily the most impressive, and the duet here sung by the beauty and the love-wracked warrior reflected great credit on Mr. and Mrs. Lau.

The two plays are presented under the auspices of the Hongkong Chinese Women's Soldiers' Relief Association. To-night, "Dream of the Red Chamber" will be staged, while "Sable Cicada" will be repeated to-morrow night and the second play on Sunday night.—A.C.G.

China Wins Currency War Over Japanese Yen

JAPAN'S RESERVES IN FOREIGN EXCHANGE EXHAUSTED

CHUNGKING, June 1 (Central).—The Chinese legal tender has won a war over the Japanese yen, declared a spokesman of the Ministry of Finance yesterday in a press interview.

The spokesman said that though the official exchange rate of the yen in Tokyo is supposed to be 1s. 2d., actually in Shanghai it has dropped to 7 11/32d., and 100 yen are exchanged for approximately only $89 Chinese currency.

The Japanese policy of substituting bogus notes issued by the "Federal Reserve Bank" which have no adequate reserves for the Chinese legal tender notes in north China has also failed, the spokesman pointed out. As a matter of fact, the bogus notes cannot be used to purchase foreign exchange unless they are first converted into Chinese legal tender notes. Since their issue, the bogus notes have dropped continuously in the market until now approximately $133 of such notes are exchanged for $100 Chinese legal tender.

In Shanghai, the spokesman added, the new bogus notes issued by the so-called Hua Hsing Commercial Bank, has slumped even more heavily, in spite of the Japanese declaration that they are of the same value as the Chinese legal tender and are convertible into any kind of foreign currency. Approximately $160 of these bogus notes, according to the spokesman, are now exchanged for $100 Chinese legal tender.

Flat Rejection

Meanwhile, foreign banks in Shanghai have flatly rejected these new bogus notes in spite of all the propaganda and inducement on the part of the Japanese.

The spokesman recalled that the Japanese gave the following reasons for the slump of the yen: (1) inflation of currency in Japan, (2) the sharp rise of commodity prices in Japan, (3) the prosecution of the Sino-Japanese war and the tension prevailing in Europe, and (4) failure of Japan to enforce the original plan of the Hua Hsing Commercial Bank. In short, the slump is due largely to the gradual collapse of the whole Japanese currency system brought about by the Japanese themselves, he commented.

To meet Japan's military expenses in the war of aggression in China the Japanese government, the spokesman stated, has issued an enormous amount of bonds. As they have exceeded the subscribing power of the people, the Japanese government has now resorted to the policy of unlimited issue of yen notes. A large amount of these yen notes as well as military notes have been put in circulation in the "occupied" areas.

Hardly Any Backing

Since Japan's reserves in foreign exchange have been practically exhausted, the excess amount of notes issued have hardly any backing. There is the danger that they may be discounted or even abolished after the conclusion of the Sino-Japanese hostilities, for such was the fate of the Japanese military notes circulated in Manchuria during the Russo-Japanese War, the spokesman warned.

The explanation given in an article recently published in Shanghai by Mr. Yoshida, well-known Japanese banker, regarding the issue of the Hua Hsing bank notes was refuted by the spokesman. He pointed out the discrepancy between Mr. Yoshida's allegation that a new currency in Central China is necessary in view of the imminent collapse of the Chinese legal tender and his claim that the $50,000,000 notes by the Hua Hsing Commercial Bank are backed up by the same amount of Chinese legal tender.

Military Expenses

The Hua Hsing notes have been issued apparently to defray Japan's huge military expenses and nobody would believe that the new bogus bank would so honestly place $50,000,000 Chinese legal tender in its safe for the issue of the same amount of bogus notes, the spokesman stated.

Mr. Yoshida's declaration that the Hua Hsing notes will be circulated side by side with the Chinese legal tender and will have the same exchange rate was ridiculed by the spokesman who asked why the Japanese try to link the new bogus notes with the Chinese legal tender instead of with yen notes and the Federal Reserve Bank notes.

JULY-SEPT.	28-3/4	29-1/8	up 1/8
OCT.-DEC.	28-3/4	29-1/8	up 1/8

The market opened 1/8 of a cent higher for all deliveries as compared with Tuesday's closing rates.

In accordance with advices received from London very steady conditions prevailed throughout the day.

Brisk demand for "actuals" by consuming centres was responsible for dealers and speculators displaying good buying interest in futures which is significant in view of the fact that the New York Exchange was closed yesterday (Memorial Day).

Late in the session prices advanced by 1/8 cent for all deliveries, but it was difficult to transact business due to the reserved attitude of sellers. Consequently the volume of business done was disappointing.

Closing tone was firm.

It is generally believed that with indications of a return of confidence the market will continue to pursue a rising tendency for the time being. Therefore, a policy of accumulation would seem to be advisable.

After ruling firm, there was trade enquiry and the market was very steady.

NEW YORK COTTON

Considerable fillip was provided by good Liverpool and Bombay cables, and an initial buoyancy was in evidence. Further impetus was imparted by trade and speculative buying. The market throughout was firm and fairly active, and the day's high levels were well maintained at the close.

NEW YORK RUBBER

The market displayed an early steady tone with higher opening prices. Higher London cables were the main favourable factor. Some new speculative buying was noted.

CHICAGO WHEAT

Continued reports of unfavourable weather in the South-West imparted a better tone to the market. On the whole, price movements were confined to a narrow range, and some small gains were registered for the day.

H. K. STOCK EXCHANGE

Enquiries during the day for investment shares and the market singularly denuded of scrip. Buyers, whilst avoiding extravagant bids, are quite prepared to pay reasonable prices, but holders are standing aloof, making business difficult.

In consequence dealings rather tailed off during the day, being mainly centered round the lower priced shares.

N.Z. LOAN FULLY SUBSCRIBED

WELLINGTON, June 1 (Reuter).—The New Zealand Government's £2,000,000 internal four per cent loan was fully subscribed yesterday.

The money will be used on public works and general development purposes, including capital expenditure on defence.

JAPAN'S ECONOMIC EXPLOITATION IS BOUND TO FAIL

CHUNGKING, May 31 (Central).—Addressing a group of foreign correspondents during a recent press interview, Gen. Chen Cheng, Director of the Political Department of the Military Affairs Commission, declared that Japanese plans to finance their aggressive war in China by economic exploitation of the occupied territory are doomed to failure.

The Japanese are bound to be rudely awakened from their fond dreams—because they lack the capital, time, labour and social peace and order essential to any scheme of economic reconstruction, Gen. Chen pointed out.

Germany, Gen. Chen recalled, invested RM.12,000,000,000 in the first year of her Four Year Plan, while Soviet Russia sank $600,000,000,000 to finance her first Five Year Plan. Both of the two countries had also to mobilize their entire human and material resources to realize their gigantic schemes.

In contrast to Germany and Soviet Russia, where has Japan, now bordering on bankruptcy, the necessary money to finance their economic exploitation of China? Gen. Chen asked.

As to time, Japan has wasted scores of years in Manchuria waiting in vain to reap a profitable return of their investments. If Japan has failed in Manchuria, she certainly has little hope of success in central or north China.

Regarding labour, Gen. Chen believed all the Chinese people in occupied zones, with the exception of a few traitors, would never consent to work and sweat for the enemy.

Much less hope will the Japanese be able to secure social peace and order in the occupied areas. Unless the entire Chinese race is annihilated or the people's resistance stamped out by the root, there is bound to be disturbance enough to unsettle any grandiose paper schemes of the enemy, Gen. Chen said.

COTTON
CONFERENCE
PLANNEDMarketing Agreement
Possibility

WASHINGTON, June 1 (Reuter).—The United States has asked ten major cotton export countries to participate in an international conference at Washington on September 5 with a view to consider the possibility of a world cotton marketing agreement.

The countries invited by the U.S. State Department include Egypt, France, for the French exporting colonies, Britain, for its exporting colonies, and also India, Mexico, Peru, the Sudan, Russia, Argentina and Brazil.

No Specific Plans
Officials of the Agricultural Department said that the proposed discussions will be exploratory and that no specific plans for international co-operation in cotton production and trade will be developed at the meeting.

However, they expect all aspects of the world cotton situation will be studied thoroughly with a view to determine whether it may be advisable to recommend to the respective governments that a conference be held to work out the details for international collaboration should be convened later.

BRITAIN FIRST IN SUEZ TRAFFIC

Figures given on the Suez Canal Company's annual return show that Italy sent 597 mail ships, compared with 391 British mail ships, through the canal last year, but the Italian tonnage, 2,910,374, was nearly a million below the British mail boat tonnage.

Ships of nations to pass through were: Germany 499 ships; Norway 295; France 286; Greece 199; Japan 109; Denmark 86; U.S.A. 69; Sweden 61; Russia 29; Egypt 25; Yugoslavia 19; Panama 10; Finland 8; Belgium 3; Rumania 3; Spain 2; Portugal 2; Estonia 1.

Italian ships carried 91,942 troops, French 14,827 and Dutch 666 troops. The number of British troops was 47,576.

END OF RED
STAR LINE

The Red Star Line, which formerly belonged to the Arnold Bernstein Shipping Company, is to be wound up.

The 16,000-ton sister ships, Westerland and Pennland, which have for some years been popular "one-class" ships on the North Atlantic route, are to be sold to a Belgian company; the seven remaining ships of the fleet will probably be broken up.

The winding up of the company is a sequel to the trial of Herr Arnold Bernstein, who was charged in Hamburg with treason and with infringement of the foreign exchange regulations and sentenced in January, 1933, to 24 years' penal servitude and a fine of 1,000,000m. ($23,000) on 12 months' further imprisonment.

Other directors of the firm received varying sentences. The Westerland and the Pennland operated between Antwerp and New York. Their purchase by Herr Bernstein in 1935 from Frederick Layland and Co. was favoured by the German Government on the ground that the line would bring foreign exchange to Germany.
